Guarini Library

Where can I find more information about NJCU's library?

The NJCU library, named in honor of Congressman Frank J. Guarini, is home to collections and services that have been developed to support classroom teaching and to enable students to meet course requirements successfully. In addition, helping students develop information literacy (the skill in locating, evaluating and using information necessary to engage in life-long learning), is a goal of the library. To find out more, visit the Congressman Frank J. Guarini Library web site.

Academic Technology Services

Where are the computer labs on campus?

For a list of computer labs on campus and their locations, please visit the Academic Technology Services website.
